Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

1 Purpose of the Organization

Wellspring Calgary (the "Organization") was founded for the purpose of providing: support programs and services for families living with cancer; opportunities for the development of self-help skills leading to an enhanced quality of life; access to information; education for health care professionals; and evaluation and research into the benefits of supportive care. The Organization was incorporated, without share capital, under the Canada Corporation Act on February 16, 2006 and is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act.

2 Significant accounting policies

The Organization's accounting and reporting policies conform to Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations (ASNPO) and include the following:

a) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with ASNPO requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the year. Significant estimates included in these financial statements are allowance for doubtful accounts, useful life of capital assets and accruals. Actual results can differ from those estimates.

b) Revenue recognition

The Organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Restricted contributions and grants are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received. Contributions restricted for the purpose of capital assets are deferred and amortized into revenue at a rate corresponding with the amortization rate for the related capital assets. Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in net assets.

Unrestricted investment income is recognized as revenue when earned. Restricted investment income is recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred.

c) Capital assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost, net of accumulated amortization. Amortization is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives as follows:

Building	2-4
Furniture and equipment	20
Computer hardware	30-100
Computer software	100

Donated capital assets are recorded at fair market value when such value can be reasonably determined and are depreciated in accordance with the Organization's accounting policy for capital assets.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2013

2 Significant accounting policies (continued)

When indicators exist that the assets no longer have long-term service potential to the Organization, the excess of their net carrying amount over the expected residual value is written off in the statement of operations.

d) Donations-in-kind

Volunteers contributed 16,307 hours (includes 6,120 hours for patient engagement research project) assisting the Organization (2012 – 9,956 volunteer hours). Because of the difficulty of determining the fair value of volunteer services, contributed services related to volunteer activities are not recognized in the financial statements. Donated goods and services are recorded as both revenue and expense when the fair market value is reasonably determined and when they would normally be purchased and paid for by the organization, if not donated.

Donated materials received during the year and recorded in the financial statements is $515 (2012 – $374), which is the stated fair value on the date the materials were received.

e) Donated securities

Donated securities received during the year and recorded in the financial statements were nil (2012 – $34,180), which is the stated fair value on the date securities were received.

f) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include amounts held with banks and investment managers, and money market instruments that are highly liquid, have a maturity of less than 90 days, are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and are subject to insignificant risk of change in value.

g) Allocation of expenses

The Organization allocates its costs to three functional areas: programs, fundraising and administration. General costs are allocated to the functional areas based on employee time spent and on usage of space in each area.

h) Financial instruments

The Organization initially measures financial assets and financial liabilities at their fair value. It subsequently measures its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost, other than investments as described in note 2(i). The financial assets subsequently measured at amortized cost include cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable and deposits. The financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

i) Investments

Portfolio bonds and equities that are traded in the open market are measured at fair value. Pooled investments are measured at cost and are tested for impairment at the end of each year. If impairment has occurred, the amount of the investment is reduced to the recoverable amount and an impairment loss is recognized in the statement of operations.

j) Foreign exchange

All amounts in the accompanying financial statements are stated in Canadian dollars. Foreign investment income is translated at the rates of exchange in effect on the dates of the transaction and foreign assets and liabilities are translated at the year end rates of exchange.

Risk is reduced by asset class diversification, within each class and quality constraints.

Bonds and debentures are managed with the objective of providing optimal returns while maintaining maximum security of capital. Risk is reduced by requiring that 80% of such instruments have a rating of A minus or higher by the Dominion Bond Rating Service.

Risk in equity investments is reduced by limiting exposure to any one stock to 10% of the total market value of the Organization's equity portfolio.

Portfolio funds are measured at fair value and pooled funds are measured at cost. The fair value of the pooled funds as of December 31, 2013 was $3,726,676 (2012 – $3,306,775).

14 Financial risk management

a) Interest rate risk

The Organization is exposed to interest rate risk on its investments, which can mean that if interest rates decline the Organization may not be able to reinvest the maturing investment at a rate similar to that of the balance maturing. Corporate bonds and notes are also subject to general changes in the economic conditions of the market the issuers or these securities operate in and their respective business performance. These investments mature at various dates from September 2016 to April 2024 and have market yields varying from approximately 2.33% to 7.768%. The Organization engages investment advisors to manage the investment portfolio in accordance with the Organization's board approved investment guidelines.

b) Liquidity risk

In the current economic environment the Organization may be subject to liquidity risk if required to realize its investments in the near term. The risk is mitigated in part by the Organization maintaining a certain level of cash-on-hand to meet current operating requirements. The Organization has exposure to foreign exchange risk through holding foreign equities.

c) Credit risk

The Organization does not have a concentration of credit exposure with any one donor. The Organization does not consider that it is exposed to undue credit risk.

d) Price risk

The investments of the Organization are subject to price risk because changing interest rates impact the market value of the fixed rate investments, general economic conditions affect the market value of equity investments, and currency exchange rate changes impact the market value of the investments denominated in currencies other than the Canadian dollar. The risk is mitigated through the use of investment managers for the long-term investments and whose performance is routinely assessed by the Organization's Investment Committee.
